Hello Cambrian,

Michele Anderson
Founding Publisher

Cambrian Neighbors

June is here, and it's bringing the summer vibes along! With the school year wrapping up, let's cheer on our graduates as they step into their next chapter – hats off to their hard work and achievements!

Father's Day is just around the corner, a perfect time to appreciate the amazing dads and father figures in our lives. Let's make sure they know just how much they mean to us.

June also calls for some fun in the sun, whether it's a staycation or a getaway. Wherever you find yourself, I hope it's filled with relaxation and adventure.

And let's not forget to soak up the little things – warm weather, barbecues, the ease of a drive to the beach, and the joy of spending time with loved ones.

Our community is what makes it all so special, and we love to share all the stories and experiences here. Together, let's make this June one to remember!

Warmest wishes,

Michele Anderson

Meet the Stephensons

BY STEPHANIE KING

PHOTOS BY DANNY B. ACEVEDO, DBAPIX

Eighteen years ago, Jonah and Leona met in Arizona. Both were attending technical schools and were introduced by mutual friends. Fast forward to 2019: one move to the Bay Area and two kids later, Leona and Jonah tied the knot during an intimate wedding in St. Thomas, US Virgin Islands. Their daughters, Josalyn and Jillian, both were in attendance and served as flower girls for their parents nuptials. “Our story isn’t traditional,” Leona recounts, “but we love how it unfolded.”

In 2015, Leona and Jonah (with toddler Josalyn and baby Jillian in tow) relocated from Arizona to San Jose for a job opportunity. Jonah, who is a hardware engineer, currently works at Google while Leona, an esthetician, owns Vivid Brows and Skin in Los Gatos. Although they left their families behind in Arizona, Jonah and Leona had a strong support system of friends to lean on while adjusting to Bay Area life. Some of these friends are now as close as family!

The Stephenson kids stay busy with a myriad of extracurricular activities. Josalyn plays competitive softball and is looking forward to her Freshman year at Archbishop Mitty in the fall. Jillian, who will be in 6th grade at Castillero next year, spends her free time dancing, swimming, and playing basketball. Leona and Jonah both take an active role in their daughters’ lives—Leona volunteers at the girls’ schools and Jonah is a volunteer softball coach.

And rounding out the Stephenson family is Ari, the five year old Rhodesian/Lab mix. The Stephensons rescued Ari during the pandemic and think she is not only the best addition to their household, but also quite possibly the best dog ever.

As a family, the Stephensons like to focus on health and fitness. Hiking, camping, or just being outdoors are all favorite free time activities. And although their current travel plans center around softball tournaments, the Stephensons do make it back to Arizona often to visit family. The Stephensons own a rental property in Arizona (@hacienda_arroyo on Instagram), which boasts ample space for families, a pool, and a soon-to-be pickleball court!

One of the Stephenson family's favorite parts of living in their neighborhood is the sense of community. From local parks, to swim clubs, to friendly neighbors, they are grateful for their warm and welcoming community. And although their story might not be "traditional", the Stephenson's embody and enjoy the Cambrian tradition of neighborly living.

YOU'RE AN EMPTY NESTER - NOW WHAT?

BY JANIS MANACSA, CERTIFIED HALOTHERAPIST/OWNER
SEA SALT THERAPY

Your kids have flown the coop (or are barely ever home), and you're left with an eerily quiet and empty house. Don't fret! While this transition may initially bring a sense of emptiness and a lack of purpose, it also opens up new possibilities and opportunities. As your children transition into adulthood and leave to pursue their own paths and adventures, embrace the joys of no more school runs, soccer practices, or endless loads of laundry. Embrace the opportunity to reconnect with yourself, your personal interests and discover new things!

Here are some things you can pursue:

REDISCOVER OR TAKE UP A NEW HOBBY

Join a book club, take up painting, or learn a musical instrument. Are the outdoors more appealing? Learn how to paddle board, go on long hikes, or become a professional beach bum. If you want to connect with others, join a volunteer group that feeds communities, take your furry pal and keep the elderly or sickly company, or donate your time to your local chamber of commerce! Ever feel like you wanted to continue your education, start a new business venture, or explore different career paths? Now is the time for you to tap into your skills and experiences gained over the years and embark on a new learning adventure.

RECLAIM YOUR SPACE

Remember the days when you had to wait in line just to use your own bathroom, or coming into the kitchen after a long day, only to find it a hot mess? What about all those days where you had to follow house rules just to serve as a good example?

Well, those days are long gone! Indulge in long bubble baths, break out your favorite tunes late at night, slip into your most comfortable pajamas, and bust some moves like nobody's watching. Feel like eating ice cream for dinner? Want to watch back-to-back episodes of your favorite guilty pleasure TV show? Why not! Being an empty nester means you have the freedom to make your own rules and embrace the carefree spirit of your inner child.

FOCUS ON HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

Dedicate your focus on physical fitness, engage in regular exercise routines, and adopt healthy lifestyle choices. This may include mindful eating, stress reduction techniques, or participating in activities that promote overall well-being such as yoga, meditation, or other holistic therapies. Nurturing your health allows you to lead a fulfilling and active life.

REKINDLE ROMANCE

With fewer distractions and parental responsibilities, spend quality time with your partner. Surprise each other with romantic gestures, plan date nights, or even quiet time together at home. Living the single life? Get out there and meet new people who may be at the same phase of life as you are!

TRAVEL WITHOUT LIMITS

Pack your bags and embark on that dream vacation you've always longed for. Whether it's a tropical getaway, a European adventure, or a road trip across the country, the world is your playground. Embrace the freedom of spontaneous travel and make memories that will last a lifetime.

Embrace the journey, relish the newfound independence, and create a vibrant and joy-filled experience in this new phase of life. It's your time to let loose, have fun, and make the most of every moment!

MEET OLLIE OBENOUR

BY STEPHANIE KING

Ollie Obenour, a current senior at Leigh High School, has a very realistic mindset when it comes to the sport of baseball. "Baseball is a game of failure," Ollie states, "and you will fail more than you succeed in the game." However, Ollie also knows that while anticipating failure is important in baseball, what is more important is letting these failures go and looking towards the next play. It is no doubt this attitude that has aided in Ollie's success as a shortstop!

Since he was five years old Ollie has played baseball, starting with Union Little League! The competitive nature of the game drew him in at an early age and has kept him playing for the last thirteen years. Ollie is a two way player, both as a shortstop and right handed pitcher. He also was the MVP for Blossom Valley Athletic League. Ollie also enjoys thinking ahead during games, and he is consistently anticipating the next pitch.

Ollie has encountered many mentors during his baseball career, most notably his own father. "The best piece of advice I have received was from my dad," Ollie recounts. "He has coached me since I started playing at age five and he has always told me that there is someone out there who is always working harder than you. This is what pushes me to work hard each and every day in order to get better and master my game."

And all that hard work has paid off! In the fall, Ollie will be playing ball for Washington State, where he will be majoring in sport management. Playing in the MLB is also a life goal of Ollie's.

When he is not on the field, Ollie can be found spending time with his family and friends, or playing other sports (including football). Congrats on your college career, Ollie! And go Cougs!

Alexis, the Stieber's eldest, recently graduated with honors from Alcorn State University with a degree in
